The Clothes Closet Approach to Collection Management

9:00am - 12:00pm

The Clothes Closet Approach to Collection Management:

Why is it so hard to weed our collections? Why do we put this task off, even as our shelves are over-crowded and groaning? Come to this workshop to discover a new and simpler way of looking at maintaining library collections. Please bring one or two items that you have trouble deciding whether or not to keep in the collection.

12:00 - 1:15pm

Lunch

1:15 - 3:15pm

Top Seven Things Every Library Director Should Know:

After many years of library management experience, Kelly Krieg-Sigman will share her thoughts on the top skills and trade secrets every library director should know. Are these skills changing and evolving? Bring your own list to share and compare!

Kelly Krieg-Sigman has been the director of the La Crosse Public Library since 2003. Prior to that she worked for the Fremont Public Library in Mundelein, Illinois and the Germantown Community Library in Germantown, Wisconsin. She speaks and presents frequently on library management issues and facilitates the biannual week-long public library administration Summer Camp by the Lake course, sponsored by the University of Wisconsin-Madison School of Library and Information Studies.
